Invites you to join us for lunch and an interesting presentation on:

Women in Development (WID)

by Alexandra Fic

Wednesday, March 1, 2017 at 12:00 noon

Coppola's Ristorante, 203 Carlton St., St. Catharines

Cost: $25.00 (tax and gratuities incl.)

Alexandra's talk will address the special hardships and challenges that women are facing in industrialized and developed countries, particularly in countries where undeclared wars and other forms of armed conflicts have been going on for decades. The focus will be on select countries/regions such as the Middle East, China, Africa and Canada. The talk will conclude with a few remarks about the "Third Wave" of issues affecting women, its future, and the impact it will have on the position of women, both in developed and developing countries. We all know Alexandra from her time at Niagara College, where, from 2000 - 2010, she taught Globalization, Entrepreneurship and the Role of Women in developing countries. However, her resumé also includes three degrees, extensive field work developing curriculum and training programs in six of the Southeast Asian nations, as well as teaching in India, Singapore, Thailand, and in Canada at Brock University. She is truly a fascinating woman!

A delicious lunch, served family style, will include:

House Salad, Penne Tomato, Tortellini Pavarotti, Meatballs, Tiramisu, Tea, Coffee and Pop
