Conspiracy theories used to be associated with shadowy people lurking in basements and handing out obscure tracts on street corners. Recently, however, these theories have become more mainstream, often to an alarming degree. Of course the world is full of actual conspiracies. The theories we will discuss go well beyond the actual, the probable and often even the possible. Many involve shadowy forces that supposedly control the world. We'll look briefly at a few of these and try to understand the reasons people believe in and spread these ideas. We'll also consider the effect that they have on our society – and perhaps we'll even hear some words about our friend below the border! Roy taught in the Electronics Engineering Technology Program for 27 years, and has been an invaluable member of our Executive since he retired. He's the person who keeps you up-to-date about upcoming events by sending emails and updating our website.

A delicious buffet lunch will include:

Boneless Herb Chicken w/Portobello Mushroom Sauce
Vegetarian Stuffed Pepper Boats
